

Course Description – Curriculum 2013

Subject: IS216 End-User Application Development

Credits: 3

Prerequisite: -

Description: Tools or techniques that allow end-users who are not professional in programming to create simple software or to extend existing applications, languages for creating web pages, content management systems, spreadsheet software, database management software, Macro, or other associated tools or techniques